Step 1: Identify the Trend

Before we look for any setups, we first need to find the market trend.

How to Identify the Trend?

- Always start on the 30 min (M30) or 1 hour (H1) chart.
- These timeframes give us a clear picture of the current market direction.
- Use higher timeframes (H4, Daily) only to check the overall momentum.

In a Bullish Trend:

- Look for the last valid Higher Low (HL).
- When price retraces to that HL area, we prepare for a buy setup.

In a Bearish Trend:

- Look for the last valid Lower High (LH).
- When price retraces to that LH area, we prepare for a sell setup.

Rule to Remember:

Trend = Your best friend.

Trade with the trend, not against it.

What does it mean?

"Trend is your best friend" means you should always trade in the same direction as the 30-minute trend, until you clearly see that the trend has shifted.

A proper trend shift happens only when:

- ☒ Two clear candle closes are formed above the last Lower High (LH) → Trend shifts bullish
- ☒ Two clear candle closes are formed below the last Higher Low (HL) → Trend shifts bearish

Step 2: Mark Buy & Sell Zones (Premium / Discount)

After finding the trend and the key point (Higher Low in bullish / Lower High in bearish), we move to the next step:

♦ Marking Zones

- In a Bullish Trend → Mark the Discount Area near the Higher Low (HL) → This is your Buy Zone.
- In a Bearish Trend → Mark the Premium Area near the Lower High (LH) → This is your Sell Zone.

We use the 30-Minute (M30) chart for marking these zones.

Then we wait for price to come back and touch these areas.

Step 3: Drop to Lower Timeframes for Entry

When price reaches your zone, shift to smaller timeframes (M1, M3, M5).

Now we look for Signal Candles + Volume Confirmation.

Bullish Entry (from Discount Area near HL)

Look for:

- Hammer Candle 🕯️
- Bullish Engulfing 💪
- Rising Man 📈
- No Supply + Sign of Strength (with Volume ✅)

Bearish Entry (from Premium Area near LH)

Look for:

- Shooting Star 📉
- Evening Star 🌙
- Bearish Engulfing ▼
- Dark Cloud Cover ☁️
- No Demand + Sign of Weakness (with Volume ✅)

💧 Step 3.5: Liquidity Sweeping Setup

Before moving to exit rules, let's cover one of the most powerful trade setups: Liquidity Sweeps.

🔍 What is Liquidity Sweep?

- Sell-Side Liquidity Sweep (SSL):

When price runs below an external low (collecting stop-losses and liquidity) and then quickly reverses upward.

👉 This often creates the base of a strong bullish trend.

- Buy-Side Liquidity Sweep (BSL):

When price runs above an external high (taking out liquidity) and then quickly reverses downward.

👉 This often creates the base of a strong bearish trend.

🎯 Trading Rule

- After a Sell-Side Sweep, you can often ride the bullish move until price takes out the next Buy-Side Liquidity above the highs.
- After a Buy-Side Sweep, you can often ride the bearish move until price sweeps the Sell-Side Liquidity below the lows.

💡 Why It Works?

Because this is how Smart Money (institutions) trap retail traders and then move the market in their true direction.

👉 Always combine liquidity sweeps with your trend direction & signal candles for the highest accuracy.

❓ The Big Question: When to Exit?

One of the hardest parts of trading is when to close your trade:

- Exit too early → you miss big profits.
- Hold too long → price reverses & you lose even after being in profit.

👉 That's why we will set clear exit rules (we'll cover this in the next step), so emotions don't control us.

🎲 Step 4: Closing the Position (Exit Rules)

Exiting at the right time is as important as entering correctly.

For this, we use Richard Wyckoff's Price & Volume Principles.

1. Price & Volume Harmony

- In a strong trend, Impulse Moves should show:
 - ✓ Increasing or relatively increasing volume
 - ✓ New higher peaks in volume (for bullish trend) or lower peaks (for bearish trend)
- If this harmony breaks (volume weakens during impulse), it may be a sign of:
 - ⚠ Exhaustion → possible pullback or even a trend shift

2. Exiting a Buy Position (Bullish → Bearish Reversal)

- If you are in a buy trade:
 1. Watch for a large impulse move into a Supply Area
 2. Look for a red candle that closes below the lower extreme of the latest bullish candle
 3. That bullish candle must be independent (not an inside bar or doji)
 4. This is a Wyckoff bearish reversal signal → close all buy positions 🟠

3. Exiting a Sell Position (Bearish → Bullish Reversal)

- If you are in a sell trade:
 1. Mark the high of the latest bearish candle
 2. As long as price does not close above that high, you can safely hold your position
 3. Once a strong bullish candle closes above the wick of the bearish candle, it signals a bullish reversal
 4. Close your sell positions immediately 🟠

Golden Rule of Wyckoff Exits

- 👉 Stay in the trade as long as price & volume are in harmony with the trend
- 👉 Exit immediately when you get a clear reversal signal

Step 5: Focus on Risk-to-Reward & Psychology

Our main goal is not to catch every move of the market.

Our goal is to trade with discipline, consistency, and the best risk-to-reward ratio (RRR).

Risk-to-Reward Rule

- If Stop Loss = 10 pips, then Target = minimum 30 pips (3R).
- If Stop Loss = 50 pips, then Target = minimum 150 pips (3R).
- Recommended: Always aim for 3:1 RRR or better.

👉 Even if your win rate is not very high, with 3R setups you will still end up profitable overall.

Psychology & Discipline

- ❌ Don't try to ride the full trend – it creates panic, greed, and wrong decisions.
- ✅ Your job is to take the best part of the move with proper RRR.
- ✅ Always use Stop Loss – never trade without it.

Lot Size Management

- If you have a $100 account:
 - Use 0.01 micro lot in gold
 - Max position size: 0.03 (3 micro lots)
- Don't over-leverage or use big lots just to chase higher profits.
- Focus on consistency, not greed.

🌟 Pro Trader Mindset:
Consistency > Big Profits
Risk Management > Greed
Discipline > Emotions

Final Note

Success in trading doesn't come from one big win — it comes from small, consistent wins.

Use this strategy with discipline, patience, and without greed if you want long-term success.

🔥 Stay disciplined. Stay consistent. Trade like professionals.
